The Wake Island DXpedition (special call K9W) is on again! The expedition members, on standby till the government finally got it's act together, are on their way out to Honolulu to connect with the Air Force military transport for their flight to Wake.

New Antenna installation at W9GRS

The third week of October proved to a busy time for the W9GRS Crew at Glenn Raymond School entering their 6th year on air. Troy (W9KVR), 7th/8th grade science teacher, moved to a new classroom and in turned had to move the antennas 400 feet to their new location on the southwest end of the building. He tested out the new set-up during the Illinois QSO Party, by pulling in 122 Q's in just over an hour and a half of operations, making a lot of people happy to get Iroquois County into logs. The following week was spent operating during the semi-annual School Club Round-up, which traditionally has been a springboard into radio operation enthusiasm for the coming year. 34 students attended the Tuesday science club meeting where Troy explained how the radio equipment worked and demonstrated various modes of communications. 13 students were able to make contacts with schools that afternoon using voice and several others stuck around to operate digital afterwards. The school station was able to make their traditional contact with fellow "9-Lander" school K9SOU, this time during a rare short skip opening on 20m to snag the qso on voice! The highlight of the week though came on Friday. Troy's daughter, Sophie, who is in the first grade, joined the fun after school and began her first participation in SCR. After a brief instruction of what needed to be said, she took the mike and called fellow school K4DMS in South Carolina. When they returned back to "Whiskey 9 Golf Romeo Sierra", a beaming smile shown on Sophie's face as she gave them a signal report of 5-9 and explained who she was. After a few minutes of chatting with Megan, Sophie said "73's" and completed her first ever QSO. Dad couldn't be more proud! Sophie followed up with another QSO with K5LMS and then learned the ins and outs of digital, making a few contacts there as well, including her first DX. When the dust settled, W9GRS pulled in 110 QSO's, including 30 states, 3 provinces, 33 DX, and impressive 29 schools for a total 36,456 pts. We'll see where it lands us, but still not bad considering we've never been close to working the full 24 hours allotted.

SEPTEMBER 29TH HUNT RESULTS

Yet another heavily attended hunt with seven teams. First place honors went to Don K9NR who was both the mileage winner and the first to find the fox.

Second place went to Bill N9OE, third to Jim KB9VR. It was a beautiful Autumn day and all the hunters came in close in mileage and time making it a great hunt.

The fox, Clay N9IO, found a nice hiding place near the old Manteno State Hospital grounds.

After the hunt, everyone retired to Aurelio's Pizza for their favorite gustatory repast and to relive the days events in somewhat exaggerated verbiage. Till the next time!
